REPORT ON MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

INDUSTRY STRUCTURE AND DEVELOPMENTS:

World consumption of Terephthalic acid (TPA) has grown at an average annual rate of more than 6%, driven by great demand for textile fibers and PET bottles. Fast population growth, combined with the replacement of cotton as textile raw material, has prompted brisk demand for polyester fibers in China and Southeast Asia. In North America and Europe, TPA demand has been driven mainly by applications in the bottle and container markets, where glass has been largely replaced by lightweight PET bottles. The recent announcement by the finance minister to cut down the excise duty on PTA may further boost the growth of industry.

OUTLOOK

Purified Terephthalic Acid (PTA) is primarily used in polyester production with polyester fibre consuming a large proportion of global output. However, polyethylene terephthalate (PET) resin production for packaging and film applications is growing very rapidly due to its success in penetrating the soft drinks and water bottles market. Worldwide around 65 % of PTA goes into polyester fibre. 27 % to PET bottles resin and the remaining 8 % to film and other plastic end uses.

OPPORTUNITIES & THREATS

High-purity PTA is the main raw material for the production of polyester fiber, and is also used in tire cord, magnetic tape, plastic film, and PET bottles. PTA is also widely used in polyamide, and alkyd resins for powder coatings, ink vehicles, and magnet wire enamel applications. Polyesters based on PTA are used everyday in packaging products like soft drinks, water, sports drink, foods, pharmaceuticals, cosmetics, toiletries, household products and others. PTA is a key raw material in the manufacturing of Polyethylene Terephthalate. Although it has the potential to cause many health hazards, the demand for polyester products greatly exceeds any risks encountered during manufacturing.

The Company's plant under construction has been shut down since September, 2000 and was not mothballed. With the passage of time, inspite of regular maintenance by the Company and in absence of any operation since then, slowly the corrosion is taking place in the plant due to climatic and cyclonic conditions in the area. Due to lack of support from the certain lenders the Company could not commence the production. However, the Company was in the process of negotiating with the lenders to settle the dues either through third party or strategic partner but in the mean time certain lenders have assigned their claims to one of the foreign banks/ assets reconstruction company. Company has also preferred writ petition before the Honorable High Court of Delhi for settlement of disputes.

INTERNAL CONTROL SYSTEMS AND THEIR ADEQUACY

The Company has established an appropriate system of internal control to ensure that there exist a proper control over all the transactions and that all its assets are properly safeguarded and not exposed to risk arising out of unauthorized use or disposal.

MATERIAL DEVELOPMENT IN HUMAN RESOURCES / INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS FRONT, INCLUDING NUMBER OF PEOPLE EMPLOYED

Relation with the employees remained cordial in general throughout the year. As on 31st March, 2007 employee strength has been reduced to bear minimum requirement in view of non-operation of the plant.
